The human microbiome is comprised of trillions of gut bacteria that live and work cohesively like a bustling community to keep us healthy. It's critical that this microbial community stays hearty, balanced, and diverse to help with things like digestion, nutrient absorption, and maintaining a strong immune system. Various dietary and lifestyle factors, such as nutrient imbalances, stress, antibiotic use, and exposure to environmental toxins, influence the health of the gut microflora, intestinal barrier, and may lead to microbiome imbalances.

ProbioMed™ 100 is a concentrated blend of 10 highly researched friendly probiotic strains designed to help continuously replenish and nourish the gut microbiome.* The 100 billion CFU count is ideal for replenishing the gut microbiome after antibiotic use.
