

TriGandha™

Comprehensive Blend of Ashwagandha Extracts

STRESS/MOOD+

TriGandha™ is a unique blend of three comprehensive and well-researched forms of ashwagandha extracts that help support balanced moods and a healthy response to perceived stress.* TriGandha™ is carefully formulated with industry-leading ashwagandha sources — Sensoril®, NooGandha®, and a high-quality standardized extract — derived from whole plant extracts (with roots and leaves) to provide optimal efficacy and bioactive diversity. Each 1-capsule serving provides 650 mg of adaptogenic ashwagandha extracts.

Ashwagandha (Withania somnifera), also known as Indian ginseng, is a well-researched adaptogenic herb that is revered and has been used traditionally in the Ayurvedic system of medicine for centuries to promote balance and homeostasis within the body and help counteract the effects of stress.* It is a small, woody shrub in the nightshade family that grows in a wide range of habitats and contains a diverse array of bioactive compounds contributing to its adaptogenic properties.* Ashwagandha is known to help the body successfully adapt to stressful conditions, and has been shown through research to have significantly favorable mental and physiological effects in humans.*

Adaptogens are compounds in plants that help the body support normal production of various hormones and neurotransmitters. Whether the need is for an increase or a decrease, adaptogenic herbs may help normal metabolism, supporting an individual's resilience to stress.* While most adaptogens have somewhat stimulating properties and ashwagandha is an excellent adaptogen, the novel aspects of this herb are that it is relaxing and soothing to the nervous system, and hence, the species moniker of “somnifera” (i.e., somnolence or sleep*).
